TWO BISHOPS CHOSEN

McCauley and Cranston Elected by the Methodist Conference.

Deadlock Broken Early Yesterday, and the Selections Made on the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Ballots.

BOTH ARE NATIVES OF OHIO

AND BOTH DIVINES CLAIM ATTENDANCE AS THEIR BIRTHPLACE.

Scenes in the Cleveland Armory Following the Elections—Much Enthusiasm Shown by the Delegates.

CLEVELAND, O., May 19.—The deadlock in the Methodist Episcopal General Conference over the election of two bishops was broken to-day by the selection of Dr. Charles C. McCauley, of New York, and Dr. Earl Cranston, of Cincinnati. It was apparent when the delegates assembled this morning that they were tired of the balloting and were determined to settle the matter to issue. The hall was set rolling by Rev. C. L. Stafford, of Iowa, who moved that the election of bishops be indefinitely postponed. This precipitated a lively discussion and the motion was defeated. Then Dr. A. B. Leonard, of New York, moved that the election of bishops be postponed until the next year. This motion was also defeated. The election of bishops was then taken up. On every ballot from 100 to 200 votes were scattered among a score or more of candidates who had no chance of election. As soon as it was decided that candidates must receive more than ten votes to be counted the delegates saw that the election was something new. A combination was quickly formed. On the fourteenth ballot Dr. McCauley's vote jumped to 235 from 190, what he had received on the ballot taken last night, and Dr. Cranston's from 245 to 261. That indicated clearly who the leaders were, and on the fifteenth ballot Dr. C. C. McCauley's vote rose to 244, or eight more than were needed to elect, while Dr. Cranston polled 238, or eight less than were needed. The next ballot gave the victory to Dr. Cranston, and the West and East had both elected their bishops. Bishop Wadsworth, speaking of the result, said that it was an Ohio day. Both of the bishops elected are natives of the Buckeye State, and six of sixteen bishops now on the board were born in Ohio. They are Stephen M. Merrill, John W. Walden, Isaac W. Joyce, Charles C. McCauley, Earl Cranston and James M. Thoburn. Bishop Foster, who was retired, was also an Ohio man.

Bishop Bowman presided to-day. The reading of the journal had just been completed when Rev. W. L. Stafford, of Iowa, moved to postpone indefinitely the election of bishops and in support of his motion said there was a large number opposed to increasing the episcopal board.

Dr. J. M. Huckle opposed the motion. The committee, he said, recommended three bishops and the conference, a majority of twenty-five, substituted two. He reviewed the conference of 1893, when eight bishops were taken. To indefinitely postpone would make the conference ridiculous in the eyes of the world. Dr. Buckley said the difficulty now lies in the fact that individuals who have no chance to secure the necessary two-thirds vote for an election still persist to vote for them. It is manifest, he said, that no election could be secured if the members persist in voting for those who cannot be elected. It is impossible to elect, then the conference on adjourn and the men who blocked the election will have to bear the responsibility of it.

Dr. J. R. Mace, of New Jersey, favored the motion to postpone indefinitely the election and charged that the great body of the church does not want more bishops. He said the doors had been opened in order that aspiring men might see new fields. Instead of being ridiculous, he said, the general church would be greatly relieved, as the present bishops can do all the work.

Rev. C. D. Hill, of Illinois, presented a substitute which provided that if no election should result on the fourteenth ballot, the conference should adjourn and on the fifteenth ballot, if no election should result, only the highest four candidates should be named for the next year and this process shall be continued until an election results.

Cries of "No!" greeted his reading and Bishop Bowman ruled it out of order.

Dr. A. J. Kynett, of Philadelphia, said the vote was a good one. He said the delegates in their seats and at the same time the delegates in the galleries were cheering. He said the delegates in the galleries were cheering. He said the delegates in the galleries were cheering.

Dr. Kynett said no combination existed and it was a matter of congratulation.

Finally the motion to postpone was defeated by a large majority. The Rev. Rufus W. Johnson, of New Jersey, attempted to secure a substitute to elect three, instead of two bishops, but the conference refused to do so.

The conference then adjourned until the next morning. The delegates were then taken to the hotel. The delegates were then taken to the hotel. The delegates were then taken to the hotel.

WILL VISIT MCKINLEY

SENATOR QUAY WILL SOON TURN HIS FACE TO THE OHIO MECCA.

He Announces that He Is Merely Going to Canton to Discuss the Financial Question.

HAS NOT YET WITHDRAWN

BUT GOSSIP THINK HE WILL SOON BE ON THE BAND WAGON.

Effort to Keep Chris Magee Out of the St. Louis Convention—Democrats Preparing to Indorse Silver.

PITTSBURG, May 19.—The Commercial Gazette's Washington correspondent says, Senator Quay is going to Canton, O., to have a talk with Major McKinley regarding the latter's position on the financial question. Just when this important conference will take place will depend upon the Senator's duties. At present he is very busy with his regular duties on the important river and harbor and naval appropriation bills, both of which are under consideration to-day. Then there are his regular duties in the Senate chamber. However, it is probable that the bills will be brought before the Senate in a few days, and that the Senator can take a few "days off" in the latter part of the week. In discussing the proposed visit Senator Quay said it was his intention to go to Pittsburgh and Beaver the last of this week for a few days to attend to some private matters. Then, as there was a good deal of uneasiness about the McKinley financial position, he had the time to spare it was his intention to go to Canton and have a personal talk with McKinley about it.

The announcement of Senator Quay's intended visit to the Ohioan created a good deal of gossip among the politicians. Coming immediately after the visit to Senator Quay of ex-Senator Platt, it was believed by some that the proposed visit was the result of that conference. The McKinleyites affected to believe that the visit meant the unanimous nomination of McKinley. They argued that Senator Quay's real mission was to make peace between McKinley and Platt, and that that was accomplished all the leaders of the opposition would withdraw and make McKinley's nomination unanimous. Others contended that the visit would result in Senator Quay withdrawing from the contest and accepting second place on the ticket with McKinley. Quay was never an evening paper devotee a half column to a labored article designed to prove that Quay's candidacy for the presidency was intended solely to secure second place for himself. Among the alleged reasons the Quayites have given for this visit to Senator Quay has already announced that he would retire from the Senate at the conclusion of his present term. But few take any confidence in the claims of the McKinleyites on this point. In the first place, Senator Quay to-day stated emphatically that his name was not to be put in nomination for the presidency. Secondly, Senator Quay is known to be a friend of the McKinleyites. He is known to be a friend of the McKinleyites. He is known to be a friend of the McKinleyites.

McKinley's Visitors.

CANTON, O., May 19.—Nothing is known here about Senator Quay's proposed visit to McKinley. Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, has just returned from a visit to McKinley. C. D. Russell, of the Hartford Post, and other visitors were with him to-day. There was a meeting of the McKinleyites to-day. The McKinleyites are expected en route home after the adjournment of Congress. If Senator Quay is coming to Canton, McKinley is keeping the matter to himself.

MAY BE KEPT OUT.

Magee and Flynn Are Not Legally Accepted Delegates.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—With all the delegates to the St. Louis convention chosen the friends of various candidates are now scanning the rolls of the delegates-elect to ascertain if they have been duly elected and are entitled to seats in the convention. As is well known, the Republican national committee of each district has prescribed the regulations to govern the election of delegates. And as it seems certain that the change of a few votes may result in the election of a different set of rolls is in progress. The clause of call for the convention that governs the election of delegates is as follows: "The delegates to the convention shall be chosen at conventions called by the congressional committee of each district in the same manner as the nomination of a Representative in Congress." In each district, provided that no congressional district where there is no Republican State committee shall be represented by delegates. The Republican State committee shall appoint delegates to the convention. The delegates shall be chosen in the same manner as the nomination of a Representative in Congress. The delegates shall be chosen in the same manner as the nomination of a Representative in Congress.
